

With over 90 years of collective experience in Real Estate development and management, the principals of SMS Hardyston are pleased to bring their unique set of skills to the construction of the final phase of the townhomes at Richfield Commons.

With a hands-on management approach, we are able to stay current with the most up-to-date building techniques, materials and styling, allowing us to create homes that our customers will be thrilled to call their own.

Our in-depth experience in land use, zoning, commercial development, construction and multi-family housing management, enables us to tap into the necessary expertise to steer our projects from concept to completion.

Having developed, and managed, dozens of projects across New Jersey and New York, we have an intimate knowledge of today's tastes and preferences. This allows us to provide homes that will stand the test of time structurally, as well as stylistically.

Our team at SMS Hardyston is happy and excited to have the opportunity to bring the Townhomes of Richfield Commons to you.
